Software and Cybersecurity Market in Germany

Issue 2019

Feb 07, 2019

Computers are becoming an increasingly central part of our world, so it's no surprise that the German software and cybersecurity sector is continually expanding. In 2018, software turnover alone in Germany amounted to 24 billion euros – roughly 22 percent of the total European market share. And with demands growing for digital security and cloud solutions, those figures are forecast to keep on rising.
