The Medical Technology Industry in Germany

Issue 2019/2020

Oct 10, 2019

In 2018, the approximately 1,300 medical device manufacturers (>20 employees) and their 140,000 employees generated more than EUR 30 billion in sales - an increase of more than four percent over the previous year. Germany is the world's largest manufacturing nation and enjoys 9.9 percent share of worldwide medical technology production. Close collaboration between science and industry has helped establish Germany's medical technology sector as an international landmark of quality, performance and safety standards.
