Event: Jun 22, 2016 - Jun 24, 2016

Location: Munich, Germany

The growing importance of energy storage solutions as a critical element in the energy transition in Germany was noticeable at Intersolar Europe/ees 2016. Germany Trade & Invest (GTAI) welcomed many international companies at its booth to discuss market opportunities in this and related dynamic technology segments.

Various speakers examined market trends, technological requirements and investment incentives. For many companies, the engagement and discussions at this trade show only marked the beginning of further expansion projects to Germany – which will then be supported by industry experts from GTAI.
