Support on IFI topics

Webinar The procurement system of the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), 30. April 2025

Katy Schröder

Agency for Business and Economic Development (AWE)

AWE is the central contact point for development cooperation for the private sector. With its international network of experts, AWE offers advice on funding, financing and project development and establishes contacts worldwide.

AWE aims to increase the participation of the German economy in IFI projects through more successful participation in tenders and better networking with relevant decision-makers.

Our offer:

1. Information on market development with the help of international financial institutions: Business opportunities, project and procurement potential, tendering and award procedures
2. Networking with decision-makers, cooperation partners and potential local project partners through events and trips
3. Organisation of expert dialogues between the German private sector and representatives of international financial institutions

Beginner's seminar „Fit for tenders from international organisations“

20 April 2025      10:00 – 12:00      online

The beginner's seminar is designed to provide interested companies with basic knowledge and concrete assistance for participating in international tenders:

- Why/when should you participate in tenders?
- What should you definitely know about procurement procedures?
- How to prepare your company for tenders?
- Tips and practical experience

Seminar series: Tax aspects and legal issues in international tenders

23 May 2025, 11:30 – 13:00 Basics and sales taxes

26 May 2025, 14:30 – 16:00 Income, corporation and withholding taxes

02 June 2025, 14:30 – 16:00 Tax and social consequences for the company's labour force / secondment

Tenders and projects financed by international organisations offer companies a strategic opportunity to tap into new markets. However, good preparation is required in order to compete successfully in international tenders.

Taxes play a decisive role in the price calculation. Insufficient consideration of tax aspects (and other related issues) is one of the main reasons for losing out in competition. When implementing projects, the risks associated with tax and general compliance in project countries are manifold and can have significant cascading effects.
