Evaluation Methods

The good evaluation of a project or a policy needs on the one hand thorough application of methodology up to the highest professional standards and is on the other hand a creative thought exercise: what do we really want to know and how to find out.

- EVALUATION GUIDES: for the geographical and thematic evaluations, for evaluation managers or evaluators and for project and programme evaluations, including checklists
- METHODOLOGICAL BASES: subject, timing, utilisation, roles, method
- TOOLS: to structure an evaluation, to collect and analyse data, to assist the formulation of judgements
- IMPACT DIAGRAMS/INDICATORS: a set of intervention logics, outlining key chains of results and a menu of example indicators for some key EC intervention sectors
- OVERALL ASSESSMENT: the development of these documents has been accompanied by a group of international evaluation experts. Please read their assessment

Evaluation reports

Evaluation Reports from 2000 onwards

- by year
- by country/region
- by theme/sector
- by instrument/channel

From 2000, reports classification follows the line defined in the evaluation strategy for 2002-2006 and does not include project evaluations.

Evaluation reports produced before 2000 are classified following the previous organisation within the Commission which mainly reflected the Geographical division.

Evaluation reports produced by the Evaluation Unit from 1997 onwards are available online on this site. For some reports of 1997-1998 and for all reports prior to 1997, only paper copies are available upon request from the Evaluation Unit. Please use the e-mail link on the Contact page.

Methodology

- Required experts' profile or expertise

The evaluation team should be drawn together such that it demonstrates expertise in:

- Evaluation methods and techniques in general and, if possible, of evaluation in the field of external relations and development cooperation. It is highly desirable that at least the team leader is fully familiar with the Commission's methodological approach (cf. Evaluation Unit's website: http://ec.europa.eu/europeaid/how/evaluation/introduction/introduction\_en.htm).
- Geographical experience: Jordan and Middle East region
- Expertise in budget support modalities (macroeconomics and PFM) and budget support evaluation techniques
- The following thematic fields linked to the identified sectors of cooperation:
  - Private sector development and trade
  - Education and employment
  - Democracy, institutional support and civil society
  - Energy and water
- The working knowledge of the following language(s): English. At least one member of the team should be fluent in Arabic language |

The key skills are indicated in bold. In their absence, the 80 points threshold may not be reached.

The team composition should be justified and the team coordination should be clearly described. A breakdown of working days per expert should be provided.
